Make any necessary adjustments before finalizing, paraphrased text here Under GST, credit notes must be issued if the invoice value is reduced post-supply and reported in GSTR-1 within one month from the date of GST registration for supplies made prior to obtaining GSTIN. For businesses, it's essential to know the correct types of invoices under GST, such as tax invoice, bill of supply, credit/debit notes, and self-invoice. This helps claim ITC accurately, stay compliant, and handle exports or RCM bills without legal issues. In India, B2B transactions require a mandatory GST invoice format, which includes buyer's and seller's GSTIN, invoice number, date, item details, HSN/SAC code, tax rates (CGST/SGST/IGST), and the total payable amount. For pre-sale negotiations, proforma invoices are used to outline product or service details, pricing, and terms before the actual sale. For taxable sales, tax invoices are issued and include tax components to claim input tax credit, with mandatory fields such as supplier and buyer details, invoice number, itemised list, and applicable taxes.
